Artist Statement

My goal as an artist is to portray the symbiotic relationship between the natural world and human interaction. Working in mixed media, I depict nature through the lens of environmental sustainability, capturing viewpoints of the flora and fauna that inhabit a particular landscape. Traveling to endangered landscapes gives me new perspectives on the need for sustainability and inspires much of my artwork. I began creating artwork to convey environmental awareness in 2017 and have since devoted myself full-time to environmentally-focused art and climate justice.
